Kevin M. Brown and Paul A. Heavey were arraigned yesterday afternoon before Queens Criminal Court Judge Joseph Grosso. The arraignment details are as follows:

Brown, 19, of 196-40 45th Avenue in Flushing, was arraigned on two complaints. One complaint charges him with assault as a hate crime in an alleged bias-related attack in which four Asian students were terrorized and subjected to racial slurs. During the incident, two of the victims are alleged to have been severely beaten. The second complain charges him with resisting arrest and assaulting two police officers. Judge Grosso set bail on the hate crime complaint at $15,000 bond or $10,000 cash and $10,000 bond or $10,00 cash on the police assault complaint for a total of $25,000 bond or $20,000 cash. Brown is represented by Brian Kennedy (212-687-0099).

Heavey, 20, of 43-35 247th Street in Little Neck, was arraigned on one complaint charging him with assault as a hate crime in the alleged bias-related incident. Judge Grosso set bail at $10,000 bond/cash. Heavey is represented by Sonia Tate Cousins (718-286-2126).

Brown and Heavey's next court date is August 28, 2006.
