News Advisory

Joseph Salvio, 30, of 30-63 35th Street in Astoria, was arraigned this afternoon before Queens Criminal Court Judge William Harrington on a charge of Conspiracy in the Second Degree (to Commit Murder), a Class B felony punishable by up to 25 years in prison.

Salvio, who is charged in a murder-for-hire plot to kill his mother, was ordered held without bail. His next court date is April 24, 2007.

Legal Aid attorney Georgia Rattray Gray represented the defendant for arraignment purposes only.
