

MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR OFF-SHORE SPORTS BETTING OPERATION BUSTED. Queens District Attorney Richard A. Brown (standing at podium) joins NYPD Commissioner Raymond W. Kelly and Patricia J. Haynes, Special Agent-in-Charge of the New York Field Office of the IRS, in announcing the indictment of 30 individuals and one corporation on charges of unlawfully operating a sports betting enterprise that stretched from Queens County to Nevada and from Rochester to Florida. It is estimated that the ring took in more than $567 million over a 28-month period by accepting wagers on a wide variety of sporting events – ranging from professional football, basketball, hockey and baseball to college basketball, among others. 10.21.2009
